Export existing pages and products from one shop and import these products into another shop

Jobelle C. - 2021-09-07 - Pages and Products

CHECKPOINT: The shop language you are exporting products from MUST match the language of the shop you are importing into.

For example:

If your source shop has en-uk language, then the shop you are importing the products into must have en-uk as well in the translation languages.

The shop you are importing to MUST at least use en-uk as primary shop language. Or the shop you are importing to must have the en-uk added in the Languages -> "Translation languages"

If en-uk is a secondary language then the products will be imported and be visible in the imported language.

- If the imported language is not the primary language, then products will be visible in the imported language but not visible in the primary language...
- If the imported language is the primary language, products will be visible in the primary language
